In this workshop we'll quickly cover materials and subject choice, then move onto the really good stuff that's part of a satisfying painting – watercolor techniques. Each week I'll do a short demonstration incorporating techniques for you to use in your own painting.

Some knowledge of watercolor and ability to draw is helpful. This is a beginner to advanced beginner level.

Yvonne Pecor Mucci – Artist Statement

Originally from Chicago, I have made southern New Jersey my home for over 30 years. My formal art training was at the American Academy of Art in Chicago where I studied both commercial and fine art. It was at the Academy, learning from Irving Shapiro, where I discovered my love for watercolor painting.

I am constantly painting whether I am holding a brush or not. Always studying a subject that has caught my eye. Before I know it, I am mentally composing a painting. Taking notes, sketching, photographing and figuring out how I'll build the pigments to capture the play of light and shadow. I like clean, bright colors, using lots of layers to achieve beautiful luminous paintings.

My goal in painting is to recapture my initial feeling for a subject and convey that to the viewer. It is wonderful when someone tells you your painting caught their eye and held their interest. To me, my paintings let another person see through my eyes.

I am a member of the Gloucester County Art League and Salem County Art League.
